

The Verdugo Hills Art Association (VHAA) is a community of artists of all skill levels, in which members can develop and build their own capabilities in a fun and supportive environment. We do this through a range of programs that give members the opportunity to learn while forging strong relationships with other artists. These programs include monthly demonstrations by well-regarded professional artists, several one and two-day workshops with member-favorite artists, group paint-out days, and several juried exhibitions per year.
