

Drawing Workshop with Poe Tan

Saturday, April 14, 2018 9:00am to 4:00pm

Pasadena Presbyterian Church, 585 E. Colorado Blvd., Room 301

Concept artist and instructor Poe Tan will be teaching about how artists can use quick sketching techniques to prepare for the creation of artworks using a variety of media including pencil, pen, rulers, markers, paper and sketchbook. He will focus on strengthening composition and visual communication by simplifying subject matter and eliminating extraneous detail. He will do this through a series of exercises in which students will focus on sketching the local landscape, focusing on trees, rock formations, mountains, clouds and possibly two-point perspective. He will demonstrate with Power Point illustrations on the screen as students draw. These quick drawing techniques will help painters plan their paintings before they actually start painting, which will determine the best composition for a successful painting.

Poe Tan is an artist and professor. He has been a concept artist, with over 23 years in the animation field as a background and prop designer. And he has worked tirelessly as a professor and instructor educating and mentoring college-level students at some of Southern California's most accomplished art schools including: Art Center College of Design, Otis College of Art, Pasadena City College, EIDO (An industry conduit between individuals and the local entertainment unions), Computer Graphics Masters Academy (CGMA) and Los Angeles Academy of Figurative Art (LAAFA).
